Excerpt: . . . to the press for aiding them to make collections of the taxes under the present revenue bill. We ask no exception on that score, but we submit, and I hope to demonstrate that our relations to industry; yes, and our relation to Government itself is such that we should not be called upon to pay an extra tax, a supertax, or, what some of our publishers have regarded as punitive damages for wrongs, real or fancied, which may have been suffered by public men at the hands of the more popular mediums of thought. SUBSIDY CHARGE RIDICULOUS The charge has been made that we, the publishers, have been enjoying a subsidy at the hands of the Government, and that we must now be made to disgorge and to pay a prohibitive postal rate in the future. To that charge we take emphatic exception. A low...
