Samuel French, Inc. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 80 pages. Dimensions: 7.5in. x 5.1in. x 0.7in. 6 m, 1 boy (doubling possible) Originally performed by the award-winning ChicanoLatino performance troupe Culture Clash A hard working immigrant father wants better for his sons, twins named Water and Power. He wants them to be like Mr. Mullholand - deciding where the water flows in this desert pueblo. From the Mother Ditch in Chinatown, to the arroyos and ravines that would become Dodgers Stadium, L. A. re-invents herself faster than a Hollywood soundstage. History is cemented over and stars fade in a blaze of glory, but Water and Power will always be remembered -- all will know how the eastside rolls! Everything the brothers stand for hangs in the balance as they meet in room 13 at the Motel Paradise on the eastern edge of Sunset Boulevard. Thats a part of the boulevard you never want to find yourself in on a dark and rainy night. L. A. s not for everybody. . . Water and Power is modern noir. What emerges from the long shadows of a rainy night is as mysterious as what will never see the light of day. Who is the Power behind the Power How does Water flow in a desert Who controls the streets, cops, gangs or gangsters in suits and ties Nothing is concrete in L. A. except the river. Fans of Culture Clashes chicano-inflected, spoken-word-erupting performance art neednt worry that theyve lost sight of their signature gifts. Montoyas latest piece, a tale of brothers and a morass of local and national corruption, daringly bundles these elements into tragedy. . . A significant step in an ambitious new direction. - Los Angeles Times Water and Power possesses some of the familiar untamed wildness and a good deal...
